INTRODUCTION

At Thomas Miller, we lead the way in defining excellence across insurance, professional and investment services.

The Thomas Miller Group is an independent and international provider of insurance, professional and investment services. Most of the businesses we own or manage are acknowledged leaders in their chosen markets.

Thomas Miller's origins are in the provision of management services to mutual organisations, particularly in the international transport and professional indemnity sectors; where today we manage a large percentage of the foremost insurance mutuals.

Increasingly we apply our knowledge and expertise to the development of specialist privately owned businesses.

Principal activities include:

- Management services for transport and professional indemnity insurance mutuals
- Investment management for institutions and private clients
- Professional services
- Building defects insurance and risk management

HERITAGE

Thomas Miller is one of the worlds largest providers of insurance to the transport industry.

Setting standards

Since we started trading in 1885, we have maintained a single-minded focus on service excellence. By setting the standards that others follow, we continue to identify opportunities, deliver growth and define success.

Having begun in the transport sector, we have continually sharpened and deepened our core skills across underwriting, claims handling, loss prevention, legal advice and investment management. Thomas Miller provide a comprehensive range of management services to mutual insurers, as well as developing a portfolio of specialist privately owned businesses.

We thrive on complex challenges. Building exceptionally strong relationships that can be relied upon in the not-so-good as well as the good times. Paying attention to detail, whilst always seeing beyond the horizon to benefit from the bigger picture. These are the characteristics that enable us to set defining standards.

Managed transport businesses annual premium income exceeds $600m.

EXPERTISE & KNOWLEDGE

For us, the ultimate in excellence is standard practice. But we never settle for standard. Rather, we set standards. It's in our DNA.

Definitive

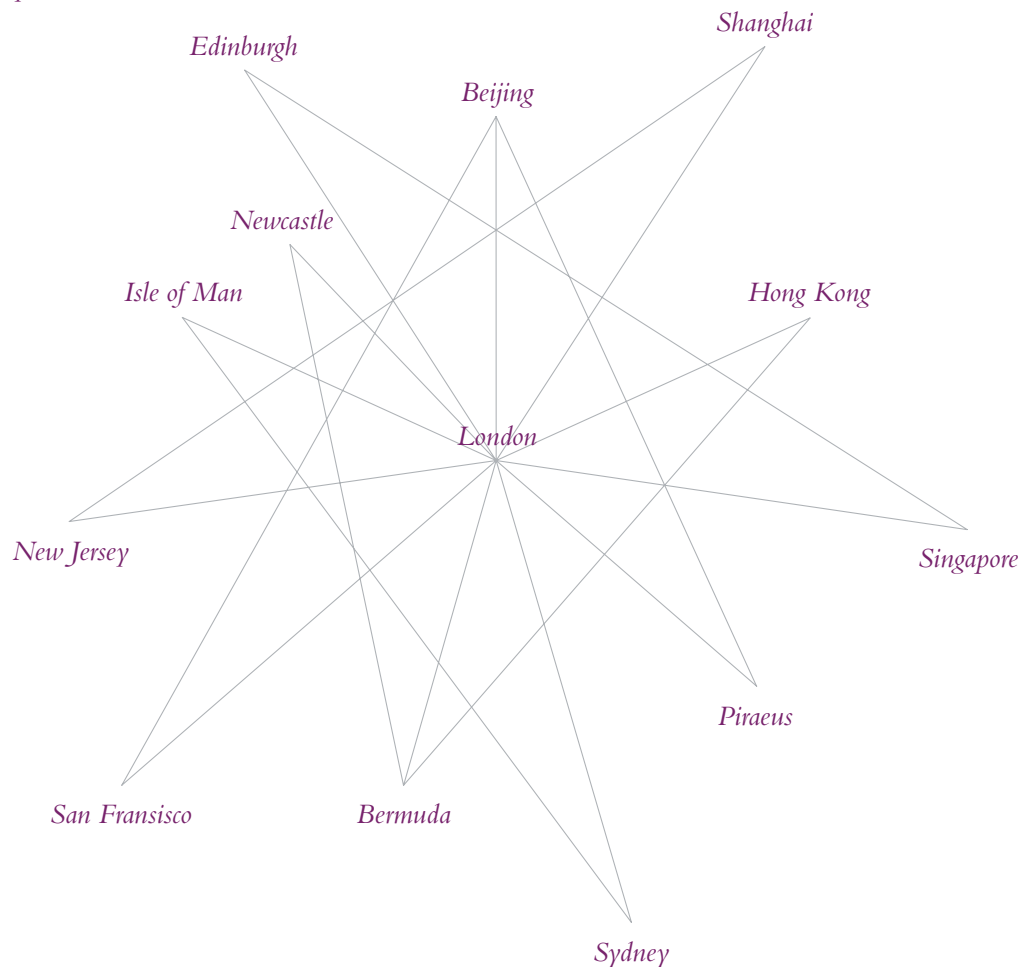

To define the standards of success within the sectors we operate, we consistently strive to over-deliver. From financially secure foundations with regulatory-friendly processes, we build the most solid, the most sustainable and the most rewarding stakeholder value. If we're not setting the standards, we're not doing our job.

CSR & CHAUNCY MAPLES

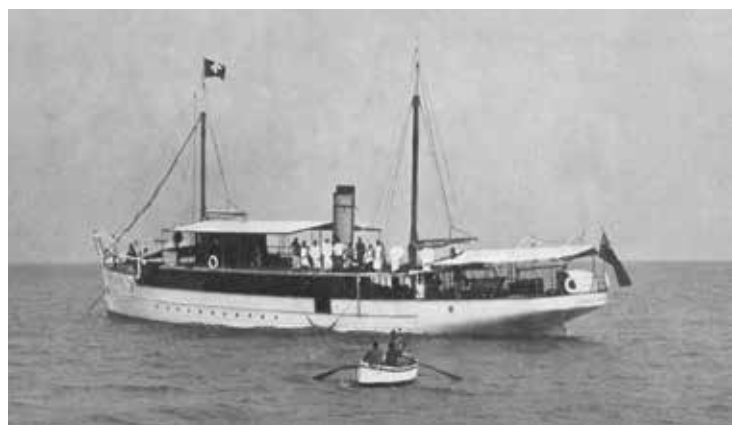

Supporting the renovation and operation of Africa's oldest ship, to bring basic healthcare to Malawi's lakeside people.

Creating a healthy future

Built in Glasgow in 1899 and now the oldest floating ship in Africa, Chauncy Maples has been moored in Monkey Bay at the southern tip of Lake Malawi for the last 20 years. But she'll soon be on the move again – as a primary health clinic serving lakeside villages and some of the world's poorest people, who currently have little or no access to medicine. As Co-Sponsors of Chauncy Maples we have so far helped to raise over £1m, to renovate and operate the ship, in partnership with Mota-Engil, Malawi's Ministry of Health and the Chauncy Maples Malawi Trust.

Reflecting Thomas Miller's drive, vision and values, Chauncy Maples is set to create a healthy future where it is needed most.

Serving some of the world's poorest people who currently have little or no access to medicine.
